Dedicated to comprehensive system testing to ensure the application is stable, functional, and ready for deployment. It includes cross-browser testing, integration testing, performance evaluation, unit testing, and user acceptance testing—all aimed at identifying bugs, validating module interactions, assessing performance, and confirming the system meets user expectations.

What went well: We implemented the SMS gateway to transfer fund internal, managed to debug that we saw while testing the functionalities in the system, implemented the redirection url on each page based on the documentation.

What could be improved: The UI/UX and the design, we are still planning what design could be improved.

What needs to be done: Implement the external and receive functionality.
